

Barnes & West Ltd Privacy Policy

Barnes & West Ltd (hereafter named Barnes & West) is committed to protecting your personal information when you are using www.barnesandwest.com (hereinafter termed 'the website').

This Privacy Policy relates to Barnes & West's use of any personal information you provide through the website.

This privacy policy explains the following:

- What information we may collect about you
- How we will use information we collect about you
- When we may use your details to contact you
- Whether we will disclose your details to anyone else
- Your choices regarding the personal information you have provided to us.

Whenever you provide information to us, we are legally obliged to use your information in line with all laws concerning the protection of personal information, including the GDPR 2018 (these laws are referred to collectively in this Privacy Policy as the "data protection laws").

The website may contain hyperlinks to websites owned and operated by third parties. These third-party websites have their own privacy policies, including cookies, and we urge you to review them. They will govern the use of personal information you submit or are collected by cookies whilst visiting these websites. We do not accept any responsibility or liability for the privacy practices of such third-party websites and your use of such websites is at your own risk.

When you sign up to participate in or receive a service from the website, we may ask you for personal information, differing services may require different personal information. By entering your details in the fields requested, you enable us to provide you with the services you select.

The website collects IP addresses (an IP address is a number that can uniquely identify a specific computer or other network device on the internet). We may use analysis software to look at IP addresses for the purpose of enhancing the user experience. This information is not used to develop a personal profile of you and the log files are regularly purged.

We may use your personal information for a number of purposes including (but not limited to) the following:

- For 'service administration purposes', which means that we may contact you for reasons related to the service you provide or require, as set out in a later paragraph (e.g., to provide you with information or a quote).
- To contact you regarding a submission you have made to the website, including any content you provide.
- IP addresses are used to identify the location of users, the number of visits from different countries and also to block disruptive use; and to analyse and improve the services offered on our website.
